

While they are almost certainly not full brothers (Lonnie is a year old and Lindsay is two), they are definitely a bonded pair, so we are trying to get them adopted together. Lindsay seems to be the leader of the two and Lonnie follows him almost everywhere. Their foster mom says, "They're shy at first but warm up quickly, head butting and asking for pets! They love to lay on the couch and have their chins scratched. The perfect pair of tuxedo cats!"

- neutered
- vaccinated against rabies and distemper
- tested negative for FIV and FeLV.
- treated for worms and fleas
- examined by a vet

There is a simple adoption process and adoption fee so we can continue to help other cats in need. Their fee has been discounted so we can get them adopted together.

young, rescued, fully vetted
tuxedo cats (Allston)
hide this posting
<https://www.gendclassifieds.com/x-70450-z>