Do you need an experienced Caregiver for your infant or toddler(s)???
I am an experienced nanny looking for new families to assist.

Are you looking for an extra set of hands around the house while waiting for a new little one? Need temporary care through the Winter Months? Loving, experienced nanny with First Aid and CPR is available. I have great local references and would love to speak with you! I am generally available afternoons and early evenings with some flexibility in my schedule.

I have experience with newborns through early school age, am bilingual in Spanish and have a flexible schedule. I can bring your little one(s) to the playground, library, playdates, zoo etc. Great at singing and reading and having silly fun with your child! Healthy eating and sleeping patterns are encouraged!

I have experience with ebf babies, cloth-diapering, attachment parenting and am communicative and patient. Food allergies, driving, cooking, overnights, multiples and twins experience.

Feel free to contact me if in fact you're looking for part-time, temporary, occasional or other care of your child in your home. I am available! $15-$18 an hour  Glad to put you in contact with my references!

In your response, please mention the ages of your child(ren), and where you live.
Just to Clarify, I'm looking for occasional work, to complement my existing schedule,
