QR Code Link to This Post This is strange, bear with me. I have two children and ZERO family. I also just went thru a divorce, and feel I have lost the only family I ever really knew, and loved and it hurts so much. They are old school, divorce means you are OUT.

Well, it's the holidays, and my children want nothing more than to have a family. Christmas dinner. Games, laughs, pie. The whole bit. Somebody to look at them like they are the wonderful children that they are. I would fill you in on all their accomplishments later. I DON'T want your money. I DON'T want a romantic relationship. I DON'T even want presents. All I want is for you to come over for some turkey, pie, games, and let my kids know good people are around and they are lovable good kids. And they are good kids.

I don't do drugs, I expect you not to as well. I drink very, VERY rarely. I have a dog. I do smoke, but do it outside.

You are a grandmother, aunt, uncle, grandfather, this add is for you. Will you adopt us? Send me an email for more information. It is an email with a fake name. I don't want the whole internet to know who I really am, just those few special people.
