QR Code Link to This Post I recently took in a beautiful little female chihuahua that came from a terrible situation. She was/is very underweight and scared of everything. I haven't had her to a vet yet, but she is starting to come around. She loves other dogs and likes children but if you try and pick her up she will run. I have a set of doggie steps up to my bed and couch so she will come and cuddle but she will not let me pick her up from the floor. I would love to keep her but my family already doesn't like me bringing my dogs along when I come to visit. I was told she was 2 years old but I am thinking she is older than that. If there is an elderly person or couple that would be willing to give her a wonderful forever home please let me know. Price is negotiable as you can't put a price on love.
