Hello Parents. I'm a very loving, honest and responsible woman. Why I love to be a nanny? There's nothing in this world more fun than children. I love to teach them so many things and you don't imagine all the things we do on the table doing arts & crafts or when the girls want to do a dress up show or when they start saying their first words in Spanish. They truly fulfill my heart. When you do what you love, it's not a job, it's a blessing.

Jasmin's Bio

Hello! My name is Jasmin. I'm a very artistic and creative person. I am 20 years old and I'm a nursing student at New York City College of Technology. I have worked in a daycare as a summer job before, working with children 6 years old playing with them, giving them snacks, taking them to trips to the park and library. I also occasionally babysat my cousins, which is where I gained most of my experience. For one of my cousins I watched over 3 of her children since I was in the 8th grade (ages are 15, 8, and 5 now). My other cousin I babysat her daughter at my house for really late nights, she is 8 years old now, but I watched her when she was a toddler (1-2 years old). I have also volunteered in a school being a teacher's assistant for a kindergarten class grading, testing, and helping the students out with class work, reading, writing, math. I have experience working with other.
