QR Code Link to This Post I am needing someone for 1-2 hours per week to help me with small projects, help with errands, and just someone to bounce ideas off of or help me put together a presentation. Ideal for a SAHM or someone just wanting to make a few extra dollars without having to committ to a bunch of time. If you are interested and available during the business hours, reach out and let's see if you are the person I am needing!.
