I research the roles, accomplishments and responsibilities you have had; allowing me to create an immaculately-written and edited final product that ties your career history to targeted information that the hiring manager will be looking for. As a former recruiter, I love helping others advance to the next phase of their career by custom writing high level industry specific resumes and cover letters that my clients can easily edit. I have experience developing resumes in several industries such as Law Enforcement, Sales, Management, HR, CEOs, Chefs, Real Estate, Modeling, Medical, Lawyers, IT career fields etc.

For 12 years, I have marketed candidates at every stage of their careers, from recent grads to Senior Level corporate leaders, but I am especially committed to supporting populations that face unique challenges during the job search process, including:

- +Clients in highly complex technical fields
- +Stay-at-home parents returning to the workforce
- +Military personnel transitioning to the civilian job market
- +Non-degreed workers seeking growth and promotion opportunities
- +Executive level candidates pursuing career changes or advancement

You need a well prepared and remastered resume, cover letter and LinkedIn profile as marketing tools to attract the attention of hiring managers. In business, it's not always the most qualified candidate who gets the interview it's the candidate whose resume and cover letter has the best presentation.

Applicant tracking systems (ATS) are the computer systems used by organizations to manage the flood of resumes they receive. The ATS will read your resume, and then rank and score your qualifications vs. specific keywords in the job description this allows the hiring manager to screen out low-ranking resumes saving valuable time. Only 28 percent of job seekers resumes actually get seen by a recruiter or hiring manager. The other 72 percent of resumes get screened out by the (ATS) software. I will

ATS optimize your resume so that it passes this screen

Here are just some of the original testimonials I have received.

had a job interview yesterday. The hiring manager said "out of all the applicants, you were the best." Good, out there. She loved our fruits off to you, growing such a

"This is exactly what I needed. You captured my clinical experience while integrating my past management experience very well. Thanks so much!" Ashley, TX

How the Process Works:

- 1) There is no obligation for the free resume assessment and consultation.
- 2) I won't ask for any highly personal information such as your address, phone number or full name. You can put those finishing touches on your resume yourself.
- 3) Turnaround of 1 to 2 days to revise, edit or create a resume. If needed all resumes come with unlimited free revisions for 14 days
- 4) During the rough draft stage, you will be able to view the drafts as we collaborate on the finished product.
- 5) The completed resume and cover letter will be sent as an editable Microsoft Word file and as a PDF file.
