QR Code Link to This Post On the LSAT, I scored a 171 in 2003, a 173 in 2012, and then a 178 in 2016.
 My most recent GMAT was a perfect 800 in 2014.

I've taught classes on LSAT and GMAT techniques for over 15 years, at over ten colleges including Harvard and MIT. I also teach online via Skype. (Reply to sign up for a Free Sample Class!)

I was a Master Teacher Trainer for Kaplan Test Prep, which was a lot of fun, and I went to Boston University School of Law. My teaching resume is unique.

Most LSAT tutors work for an average of 8 months, then become lawyers and quit teaching. You need an expert, not someone with less than a year of experience. Most tutors get absorbed by law school or business school. None have my years of experience or passion for standardized tests. Give me a chance to show you what I can do. It will be free for you, and it will increase your LSAT or GMAT score by 5% in just 30 minutes.

I'm currently a full-time author, which has been a lifelong dream for me, and I tutor 10 hours per week to support my family between book deals. Basically, you'll be getting one of the best tutors in the country for private one-on-one sessions. I only have ten spots per week, and only a few open at the moment, so sign up for your free session soon.

Besides hourly tutoring, I have developed Strategy Courses for every section of the LSAT and GMAT exams. You can sign up by the hour or by the course (the course option is cheaper). Let me know what you need, and I'll put together a proposal for you.

I have suggested courses for all of the following LSAT test dates:
