SLS happens to be the home of the fastest growing final expense life insurance agencies in the nation. Free leads every week is an advantage of working for a large agency that has been in the senior market for over 45 years. We don't need to sell leads to make money, we just sell life insurance! Critical to our success is the agency's ability to provide full-time support to every agent in their own protected territory.

One of the goals this year is to build and develop the area in Greater Philadelphia. We will be hiring motivated sales professionals and currently have full time positions open in the area.

We offer free leads, bonus money in your first 3 weeks, training, award trips and prizes every year, renewals, and overrides. The National Home Office located in Vero Beach houses a 60+ person Agent Support Staff that allows you to focus on selling rather than on policy retention and customer service.

Receive 30 to 50 Direct Mail leads per week for seniors requesting more information about our programs. We train the agents to get the prospect to the kitchen table with the lead that has that person's handwriting on it. Our agents find out why they responded, what they qualify for, and tailor a plan that fits their budget. Our average policy is around $70 a month, which in turn pays the agent $440 in 1st-year commission, plus renewals.

If you are hungry, ready to be mentored by the top 1% in the industry, and need to earn $100,000+, apply today for a position selling final expense life insurance with SLS. You must be life insurance licensed, or willing and able to get licensed. Life insurance licensing consists of only 20 hours of class or online work, passing a background check, and a one hundred question state exam. This is typically accomplished in under two weeks.

If you are a veteran or have experience as a life insurance sales professional, final expense, Medicare, pre-need sales, auto sales managers, general sales managers, sales trainers, cell phone sales, door to door sales, b2c, b2b, top producer, top sales, top manager, auto sales, outside sales, management, mortgage, real estate, marketing, bartender, financial services, finance managers, satellite TV sales, Cable TV sales, retail outside sales, or if you are a person who just love working with people then apply today !
