I am an expert in the LSAT, GMAT and GRE for graduate school admissions. This has been my full-time career for 12 years and I work hard to provide the best tutoring possible.

Here's my background: I earned a bachelor's degree from Brown University in the honors writing program and worked as a magazine editor for eight years. Then I got an MBA in finance with the number one rank in my class and worked for a financial planning firm while teaching test prep part time. I truly enjoyed teaching from the start and eventually decided to teach the LSAT, GMAT and GRE full time. I have 99th percentile scores on these three tests. I have taught for the largest test prep company and several other national firms. Since I know all the major courses, we can tie our work together with any other training you've done.

Students meet with me in person for private sessions seven days a week at major libraries around greater Denver. Because of my experience, each hour is very productive. My resume and references are available upon request.

Ultimately, the proof is in the results: My students score higher. I offer a free hour to new students so we can meet with no obligation and you can compare me to other tutors. Feel free to get in touch with me to ask any questions or schedule the free.
