QR Code Link to This Post I wanted to point out that since I've come back, I've realized all these new comers to Fayetteville are ruining the beautiful ways of this community that made me love it when I first got here and I want you guys to acknowledge that and if we don't try to remind them the loving, open minded, friendly, and caring personalities that most natives from here have, then eventually the ranking of this place will be ruined and it'll stop being such a desirable place to live. Or maybe im just mad at the changes, but this place sucks now and I want you guys to remember how it was a year ago and compare it to.
