QR Code Link to This Post Looking for bass, drums, and second guitarist for Christian alt rock band (also a keyboard player, but how could one ask for so much?)

I have a large, great practice space and may look into buying bass/ drum gear for the right band members to cut out gear hauling for practices. Planning for once per week practices either weekday evenings or weekend afternoons.

Generally speaking, would mainly focus on originals (especially learning the songs on "Old Times" in the beginning), but may learn a set or 2 of worship songs to have under the belt. The right band members will receive partial ownership to revenue related to the album "Old Times" (if it seems to be working out), including royalty and digital sales, but particularly merchandise hard copy sales from live shows.

Original tracks can be heard at www.secularwasteland.com , spotify, itunes, google play store, youtube, soundcloud, and almost all other digital stores and streaming services.

Message if interested.
