QR Code Link to This Post We are an actively working cover band playing 2-3 times a month, and we're looking to add a lead/backup vocalist who can also be the dedicated front man/woman. We have other vocalists in the band, but would be looking for you to sing lead on 50-75% of the songs and backups on the rest. Rhythm guitar or keyboards would be a big plus. We primarily cover rock from 1980-2000's, but also a few older and a few newer. Age/gender isn't an issue, but you should probably like music from that era. We have contacts/booking and work with several local production companies for lights and sound.

We do this because we enjoy it. We have a good time at gigs and rehearsals, and enjoy hanging out, but still try to be serious about what we're being paid to do. Some people golf to relax, have fun, and blow off steam. Playing music is our golf. We're good at what we do and that's important to us, but we also have a lot of fun doing it, and that's just as important.

The usual fine print: we're not interested in alcoholics, junkies, dictators, divas, mercenaries, or drama. Drinking is fine as long as it doesn't interfere with your singing/playing. It probably goes without saying, but you should have reliable transportation and gig-worthy gear. We all have day jobs and know we're not going to get rich or "make it big" doing this, but we're also not playing for free (except charity events).

If you're interested, please respond with some background about yourself including a musical bio. Links to online samples of your work are appreciated as well.

Also, please include your name and cell number to help us weed out spam and scammers:-)
