QR Code Link to This Post PLEASE READ!!! We are looking to re-home our adult 1 1/2 year old male Julianna Mini Pig. If I had to guess, he is probably around 100 pounds. Pretty standard adult mini pig.

He is neutered and up to date of shots.

We have had to make the tough decision to re-home him due to him and one of our dogs not getting along. It is NOT due to a specific issue with the pig, it is due to our dog. For whatever reason our dog just doesn't like him and it has come down to the difficult decision of choosing to keep our dog and find a forever perfect home for our pig. Our dog has been our family member for many years and was a rescue so we are forced with no other option. We are assuming it is due to limited space for our piggy and is a territorial thing therefore between the dog and him.

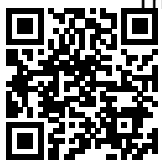

Our pig MUST go to someone with land. He is used to being outside and needs as much area to roam as possible. We prefer to see him go with other pigs and/or farm animals for socializing reasons. He really really needs other animals and a large area to roam and graze. He is plenty adapted to being a "pet" and therefore it's one of our requirements for him.

As per all piggies, he loves belly rubs, treats and playing.

Please contact me for further information.

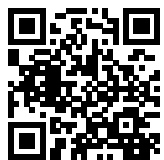

We would need to see pending living arrangements before agreeing to let him go.

Thank!
