QR Code Link to This Post Big case that doesn't sit well? That legal brief just doesn't grab you and shake you for a win? Perhaps you have an appeal and you want some fresh ideas. I am starting a new content review and proofreading service for legal documents and filings.

I am a retired attorney who graduated 3rd of 203 as a Member of the Law Review and thereafter wrote highly successful complex corporate litigation briefs and affidavits (never lost a case).

Whether you just want a proofread, a cite check, a fresh perspective, or you want to go deeper with some content review and/or strategy development, I don't think you can go wrong. I can do piece work or hourly, and my goal is to make $30 per hour. I am also available for legal research for roughly the same. As a Boise resident we can meet in person or simply do it all by email.

Yes, I aced the Code of Professional Responsibility so I am fully versed in confidentiality and fiduciary obligations, I have another writing business that I am always on time with, and I don't get anything but rave reviews of all my.
