QR Code Link to This Post I have a 2002 Honda Civic ex I need someone that knows how to remove entire head so that I could have it taken to a shop to have a compression test to make sure there is no cracks. If you know what you're doing hit me up i really need to get this done ASAP let me know how much it will cost to just take the head off and then come back after the head is done at the shop and put it back
