Estimated to be four years old, Cole's been in rescue for three of those years. He does not understand why he hasn't found a home--He's a fabulous, calm, good natured boy. He loves attention, petting and being held. His foster mom calls him her big, sweet, huggy bear!

Cole loves people, dogs and other cats who are not dominant. With his easy going personality he would also be just as happy as an only pet.

Cole has perpetual hope there is a family who is the perfect match for him and who will make his life complete. In return, he will make your life complete too! Won't you give him that chance?
