QR Code Link to This Post I'm looking to rehome or trade my male mountain horned dragon. The person I purchased him from lied to me claiming he was captive bred and he isn't. I personally don't feel comfortable as a herp owner owning a wild caught reptile. He eats great, he's SUPER chill, he loves to ride on your shoulders and watch everything that's going on, he's a bit skittish around water but I've been working on him with that so it's getting better. He's been incredibly easy to take care of and he's such a sweet guy. His name is Quill(after Peter Quill A.K.A StarLord). If you're wanting a reptile with a good attitude, gentle behavior as well as a curious personality he's your guy. He prefers to eat out of your hand but loves to hunt crickets. These guys can eat just about anything that a carnivore can. They are carnivorous and have good appetites.

I'm mainly looking for a baby black and white Argentine tegu(or any tegu with a mix of that). He has a large vertical terrarium that would come with him as well his water tub, food dish, hammock, logs, water bubbler, lamps, his mixed substrate and some extra moss. I will not take a price any lower than $225. This guy is my kid like all my pets are and I've spent a BUNCH of money on him ensuring he's healthy and well taken care.
