QR Code Link to This Post My family and I are seeking Christmas tree and decorations either free or cheap. Earlier this year we lost a lot of our belongings to a fire that neighbors had started and so far we have been able to get and replace a few things but not any Christmas items and my husband has been diagnosed with Multiple scelorsis and some days are better than others and because he's been so sick I got fired from my job because he needs full attention when he has one of those bad days. We both just want our daughter to have a tree and fun christmas. But if anyone is able to give anything is appreciated not asking for toys or nothing just a tree and decorations just can't afford store.
