removal or lawn care jobs."

Over decades of being a homeowner, I've enlisted several cleaning services. It seemed that initial work performance was good, then tapered off as things became "routine". Not so with Able Services and Val Smith. I had only heard about cleaning that makes homes sparkle and that's what you get with Val and any of her workers. There's an extra "something" she provides that is hard to quantify, and has to be experienced. From the beginning and with new staff, Val provided professional cleaning at a reasonable price and at a level of quality I had never seen with previous cleaners. Her attitude was always accommodating and energetic. Her company offers a wide range of services from painting to dog care, all with a smile, efficiency and responsiveness. Val and her staff are a joy to work with and trusted in my home.

Val started dog sitting for my Rhodesian Ridgeback when I had to travel for work. I soon started having her cleaning and doing laundry for me once a week and organizing my home since I work so much and don't have time for domestic stuff. Val will pick up Genghis if I'm running late for the airport and take him to the vet if he needs attention. She's done shopping for me and even has her workers take care of my yard. Her company can pretty much cover every service that I have needed. I can recommend Val for whichever service you may need.

I have been associated with Able Services for over 8 years. From house cleaning to pressure washing, gutter cleaning, and a major household relocation, Val and her employees have always provided quality service. They are a dependable and hardworking team and I value her commitment to her customers.

Your service is AWESOME! There is only one problem....you make it easy for your customers to be lazy LOL. I will never again wear out my back or waste a whole weekend doing any projects when I can just call you and have it done quickly and at a fair price. My husband will soon need help installing one of those prefabricated closet systems, so I will call you. Thanks again.

Happy Thanksgiving,

Vanessa

"Valerie and her crew are motivated professionals who execute great work results and are dedicated in seeing a project through completion making it right the first time. I don't worry or spend time validating the work they have performed for me is done right. I know it has been."
