My name is Christopher Williams.

I am a writer/director from Nashville, TN. Last summer, I premiered my first feature film at the Palace Theater in Gallatin, TN called CONNECTING.

Now, I'm setting out to make my next feature, a dramedy called ASTRAY, taking place entirely in a bowling alley, the film sets out to explore themes of depression, heartbreak, and loss in an entirely funny and unique way.

I am currently in the early stages of development but plan to shoot the film toward the end of the year and am looking to audition women, ages 19-25 for a lead role in the film.

If interested, please email me with a list of prior acting experience, anything you'd like me to know about you, and two head shots and we can start discussing more about the project!

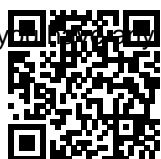

I can't wait to make this film and I hope to hear from you soon.

Thanks,

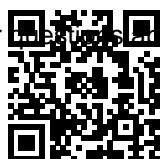

Christopher Williams
