Likely Danish, c. 1965
Teak

Classic mid-century Scandinavian teak sideboard. Top-tier quality. Solid teak edging and legs. Flat planes feature teak veneers bookmatched to produce artful symmetrical patterns. With a fully finished back and a teak interior (usually a lesser wood is used inside,) this piece stands apart for the generosity of its construction.

The cabinet offers abundant storage behind its two smooth-sliding doors. Both sides feature a wide height-adjustable shelf, and the left side also hosts three small felt-lined drawers.

Use as originally intended in the dining room, or repurpose as a handsome entry console or TV stand. If you plan to use the piece for electronics, please let us know, and we'll install cord ports in bottom panel at no charge.

DIMENSIONS

78.75" wide, 17.5" deep, 29" high

CONDITION

EXCELLENT vintage condition. As shown in photos 5 and 6, there are a few areas on the top that appear slightly lighter than the rest of the top. This effect does not particularly draw the eye and is less visible in person than in the photograph.
