QR Code Link to This Post Don't even like the word companion . It makes it sound like something illicit. Maybe you haven't considered a companionship because most guys who offer aren't serious.

I am none of these things. I am real and genuine in my offer. And I'm a handsome, fit, normal gentleman.

The biggest reason, though, that you may not have considered this is because you don't want to cross a line that you fear would turn you into an ??????. I can understand this. And I can try to be communicative and sensitive in a way that respects your feelings. But let me say right here and now that I'm not looking for a ??????.

Think of me as a boyfriend with a busy schedule, who can only see you briefly and doesn't invade your personal life. You will be reimbursed $200 each time we see each other

I am looking for someone to go out to dinner, shows, concert, movies etc, and return to my house and spend some time there. I am 38 yr old, fit & active, like to play sports, and a happy person.

Please be between 24-35, In-shape, attractive, fun & happy, non-smoker, with few or no tattoos and piercing, if you have child this probably won't work due to sometimes I need you to travel with me.

If interested please tell me about yourself including education, age, height, weight, and a several clear photos, please be detail, no one liners please

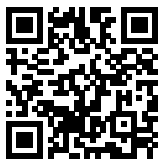

Look forward meeting
