QR Code Link to This Post Hello there,

I'm moving to Denver this weekend (12/16/17) from Kansas for a new job. I work in the TV news industry, Spanish language. I'm looking for a female roommate to sign a lease and move in ASAP. Preferably a 2 bedroom/2 bath with tile/wood floors in kitchen/living room area, with walk in closets and a balcony/patio. Ideally I'd like live close to the Broncos stadium, as that's where my work is located, or in the near by area. My budget is around $1,000 before utilities.

I have two amazing lovable dogs, mini dachshund (5) and a basset hound (2.5). They are potty trained, love to cuddle and very relaxing for the most part. So a dog friendly complex and roommate would be ideal.

I'm 25 and have been working in the TV news business for the last two years. I graduated from the journalism school at Arizona State University in 2015. I like to spend time outdoors when I can, go hiking (loved to do that in PHX!) and try snowboarding or skiing (never done that :/) and just want to explore the new city and make new friends!

My boyfriend and I will be arriving in Denver Saturday, so I'll be able to meet with those interested that day and hopefully apartment hunt together that weekend? I'm also able to video/Skype call.

Please reach out if you're looking for a roommate. Will be checking my email daily as I'm cutting it close to my move date.

Thanks,
Adriana
