QR Code Link to This Post The Breville BJE200XL Juicer is a top rated, quality juicer by one of the better know manufacturers, Breville. It is a quality unit that won't break after a month or so like so many other juicers do. It has never been used. I purchased it to extract juices from fruits and vegetables, etc, for which it does an excellent job. Unfortunately, it won't extract the juice from wheat grass which I needed it to do. I didn't find this out until after I purchased it. I need a different juicer to extract wheat grass which will cost around $300+. It is a very fast and compact unit. It comes with the original cup and manual but I no longer have the.
