QR Code Link to This Post Published songwriter and former manager seeks singer, multi-instrumentalist, and producer for on-line collaboration. It's important to think global when pitching songs, so I would like to use the same approach to record them. Large catalog of songs available.

I usually work with self-contained artists with their own recording studio. I also work with singers and producers who are seeking songs for an upcoming release. Cover bands are welcomed. The singer is very important, as most industry contacts evaluate the singer as much as the songs.

Everyone in the industry wants finished product these days. "Radio ready" recordings, not demos. With a "radio ready" recording, there's no need to remix or remake the song. That's the best scenario for everyone because your name remains attached to the song as it gets shopped around the industry.

Pop, rock, and country only. Please reply with a sample audio track. Cheers.
