QR Code Link to This Post When my friend moved into a place that would not take pets, I took them in... one Male "Koa, and his sister "Kailani". I was just given notice by my landlord to move by January 1st. It breaks my heart to do this as I've grown very fond of these wonderful cats, but finding a place with 6 of my own is going to be very difficult.

They were adopted from the Maui Humane Society, and both have been fixed, and I have their adoption papers. They love to hang outdoors, and will come in for visits when you let them in, although Kailani will hide and want to stay in occasionally. Koa is super friendly and loves to be carried over your shoulder, while Kailani is very shy and takes a long time to cozy up. Once she sees you at one place over and over again, she'll eventually stop by for some pets. You'll definitely need patience with her, but she totally a sweet cat. First picture is Kailani, second of Koa, he lays like this all the time, and the last one is when they were younger.

Please call if you'd like give these two a furever.
