QR Code Link to This Post I have a 327, Muncie 4speed, close ratio for sale, both of which are still in the car.

The engine has one low compression piston but is in otherwise good condition. The engine comes complete from oil pan to carb--with the exception of some add ons (starter). I do not have a build sheet on the engine but she has a small cam, 650 holley, aluminum intake, electronic ignition. Anaylsis of the problem is that it is bottom end related, but I can't verify since I have not broken down the engine

The 4speed works fine, no problems. The previous owner had 2nd and 3rd gears rebuilt, which I have the paperwork for.

The engine and trans are due for replacement at the end of January (I hope). I am upgrading the drivetrain. You can hear and take a ride in the vehicle.

Thanks
