QR Code Link to This Post Hey not even sure where to have posted this. But I'm in need of someone clever with words. I'm starting a business that will mainly be making masks and props for movies. I want a name that plays on anonymity or or the fluidity of art.

I guess something ominous like no face or thieves masks. But not as cliché.

Or just something that basically advertises the fact that we can create pretty much anything with little to no boundaries.

Anyone have any suggestions.. ? I'm an artist. Word play is definitely not one of myōŸ,
