QR Code Link to This Post I have a purebred(no papers) 1 year old female lab that i am looking to re-home. She is crate trained and sleeps in crate at night. She is a indoor dog but takes to outdoors very well. She is very friendly with children as she has been raised around children under age of 10. She needs some work on leash training in general. I am looking to re-home her due to not enough time to give her the attention she needs would prefer she goes to a home that someone is able to give her attention and a fenced yard. She has a bladder issue that occurred after she was spayed at 6 months. She takes a pill with each meal(2 times a day) she is able to hold her bladder throughout the night with limiting water before crating her and 4-5 hours in the daytime if you need to go out. She will come with crate, dog food, dog food storage, dog toys, and collar/leash. There is a re-homing fee associated with her. Call(leave message if not answered) or text . Pics available upon
