My parents purchase this sweet bird as a birthday gift for me a long time ago. Unbeknownst to them, they can live up to 25 years with proper care. Hence this sweet bird is still with us. She has lived a very full and loving life. She mimics many sounds, loves to dance to music and willingly comes on your finger for a head scratch. She has a simple seed and water diet, but loves grapes as a treat. I have an 8 month old at home that is already crawling and standing, making it increasingly difficult to care for Kiwi or find the time to give her quality attention. She is really easy to care for, but deserves more attention than I have been able to give her lately. I have all the necessary items for her - cage, lots of toys, food dishes, nail clippers and would provide any remaining seed to her new loving owner. Please contact me with interest and provide a brief description of your home life - it is incredibly important to me that she go to a safe and loving.
