QR Code Link to This Post Hi, I am a 20 year old musician who is fairly new to the east valley area looking to meet musicians in the area to play with and potentially join or form an original band. I can play piano/ keyboards, guitar, and drums and have all of the gear and transportation necessary to do so. I do not have a place to jam at the moment but would not mind working that out if you are interested in Jamming.

You do not need to be a prodigy of any kind, but I would prefer to play with experienced musicians who know basic-intermediate theory and songwriting craft. NO COVERS. I want to write original creative music and have fun doing it. If you are interested in starting a project or if you have a project that needs another member, please reach out and we can discuss ideas, gear, influences, etc. I could go on naming influences or sounds I want to go for, but I hate to limit myself. Let me know what you're into and we can see about making some rad.
