So honestly.... I'm desperately looking for someone open minded who would be interested in shortening or modifying my calcaneals to help with becoming high heel dependent. I'm very passionate about wearing heels full time and having this done. I'm here seeking help from the community is all. If this interests you and you have the ability and facilities or have other recommendations.

Send me a reply or txt and we can chat about possible options for achieving my goals. Can provide a few pics if needed. Maybe arrange to meet if you're serious but not comfortable discussing over
