QR Code Link to This Post We found a red heeler mix dog that had been hurt. We took her to the vet and got her all fixed up when we found her. We waited to rehome her until she was all healed up. It is now time to find her a new home, since she is healthy and happy once again. She is a sweet girl. She needs some training because she is very excitable. She knows to sit, but that is as much as she knows currently. The vet said that she is around 9-12 months old. She weighs around 25ish pounds. She would make a wonderful pet for someone with a lot of land for her to run on. She loves kids, but will try to jump on them to give them kisses. We have been working on her with that.
