I've been surfing a long time and look for less crowded spots now. I do ocean swims and races in the warmer months. I like to do trail rides in Wilder Ranch and other places. I'll do trail runs and beach runs in the area. I'd like to SUP and kayak again. I'm a single straight male in my forties. My friends who are my age are all married and raising families. They are too busy to do things now. A relationship also ended a while ago. I'm feeling a bit stuck right now. I've tried meetup groups without much success. Most people who surf now are in their 20's. Not exactly a good age range for me. It might be nice to have company in a compatible age range(30-40s). And I do realize that it's winter. People still surf in the winter. People do indoor things in the winter. If interested, send me a message. I'll just keep running the.
