QR Code Link to This Post Small gig here. Just a few hours here and there. I have a small piano exhibit with digital pianos for the holiday season at the Westfarms Mall. I'm looking for a friendly pianist to play the pianos and answer questions potential customers might have on the pianos. Laid back fun gig. I really just need a break every once in awhile and need someone to babysit the pianos but it would be nice if you could play and sell one if the right customer came along. If you play and have sales experience step to the front of the line.

I'm just looking for someone to fill in from time to time so I can get a break. I'm not looking for a Carnegie Hall performance here just someone who can play the piano without sheet music so you can make eye contact and smile at people walking by. Perfect small gig for student or even retired adult who love pianos to make a little money for christmas and make people happy playing holiday music, standards, etc.. hit reply and tell me about yourself and leave your contact information. If you have links to you playing piano please include those in email. Take!
