QR Code Link to This Post One bonded breeding pair of doves, the male loves to do tumbling tricks and coo, while the female is content to not do any flying and rest on your shoulder while doing housework! The pair has just laid two fertile eggs, and we are expecting them to hatch within the next two weeks, just in time for the holidays! These eggs will be included in the price if you would like to have them.

There is also a smaller male, who is the offspring of this breeding pair, (he is about 8 months now, the picture is of him as a hatchling) he still gets spooked sometimes, and loves his out of the cage time. I am willing to separate this young male from his parents, but the bonded pair would have to stay together :)

The cage that is included is 22.5x32x16.

Also included is a bag of food and grit!

$30 rehoming fee for:)
