QR Code Link to This Post Hello, I am the acting founding chair of the BWCA or Blockchain War College Alliance. We are a group of friends and talents and interests combining for a brain trust, social and game heavy method of increasing the boil down intelligence about the explosive technology market that encompasses Cryptocurrencies, and the blockchain platform revolution taking place right now all over the planet.

- You either know or are curious about Bitcoin and want to know more, are social and friendly and enjoy meeting and socializing with different and interesting people.
- We are looking for a well rounded group of talents
- We have a number of programmers, and computer specialists, but we can always use a few more.
- Some of the other categories where we are really interested in seeing more join.
- Other ethnicities than Caucasion
- Women
- Diesel Mechanics
- Steam Punks
- Circuit board and IC engineers
- Artists
- Musicians, we have some, can always use more.
- Film, Video, youtube talents.
- Home brewers
- Construction trades
- Robotics and drones

As time goes by, other than capitalizing on our collective knowledge, taking positive action to implement awesome new developments, network with local industries to enrich our lives and ourselves. We will probably be involved in developing some pretty advanced and even disruptive technologies, like 5G, coils, zero point energy, systems, high speed resonant energy, anti-gravity, rail gun, currently we are exploring the way to use some of this in a peer and a way.

If interested tell us a bit about yourself, rough scale and what interests you have in the cryptocurrency world. This club is social, progressive and inclusive aka NO ASSHOLE, unless you are likeable and funny. Looking forward to reading and responding to new.
