The reason for my post is I am lost and this is getting tougher. But I am doing my best! And with the Christmas holiday right around the corner I have nothing to give my 3 year old boy this year. Although I am blessed we are together I thought maybe put this ad up to see if there is anyone out there that would like to make it a Merrier Christmas for my 3 yr old as I unfortunately cannot this year. A little bit about us we moved here almost a year ago from Denver. I did start work immediately when I got here, and then 3 months into it our car motor got hot and seized up, well the town of Saginaw we live in has no public transportation so that made me lose my job. And I have not been able to bounce back after that, so here we are in Christmas time and I have nothing to wrap up for my son. I do odd and end jobs but it all goes to rent and diapers. Etc..He needs clothes shoes Diapers and if anyone has an old car they dont use to get him around and me to jobs that would be awesome(as there is no buses in Saginaw) Even if you can't help a thought and prayer is enough! His mom abandoned us 2 yrs ago and it hasn't gotten any easier, I know the good Lord will one day bless us with a break. Im grateful we are here and together! God bless! And Merry Christmas

This is not spam at all ..please don't..
