QR Code Link to This Post Hey my name is Jennifer I'm 26 years old I have a 1 year old daughter and she is my life I honestly don't know what I was doing before her and I don't know how to do anything else besides being wrong now and that's a good thing to me anyways... I made this post because I'm looking for financial assistance and yes I'm asking somebody with the means to help out financially I do have a job and I can't pay back slowly but surely LOL I am real and I am sincere my daughter and I are okay we struggle from time to time and I do my best... I hope to one day have means to help people like myself especially single mothers get back on their feet because right now I'm barely getting by and I could be lying I could just be trying to get money for anything but that's where trust comes I guess in this post I'm not going to attach a picture of me and my daughter but I'd be more than happy to send it to someone who does reply I think us as humans need to look out for each other and me and my daughter I promise sample I've never had a rich family and I work one job and clean houses on the side and do anything else I can to make money legally that is lol so even if it's just 2 have good karma or you legitimately just want to help email me or text or call me my number will be attached I just want the best for my daughter I want to go to school but between work and spending time with my daughter and doing side work it's just not possible at the moment I want a better life for my daughter so I'm not asking for a million dollars I'm not even asking for any specific amount just hopefully someone out there can understand so I look forward to hearing from whoever wants to reply to this ad and please I don't want to do any sexual favors so if that's what you're thinking right now please don't reply to my ad I look forward to hearing from anybody and who knows maybe years from now I can start a support system for people that are lower class that is try and try but can't ever catch up and I just want to catch up not for me but for my daughter she deserves the world and I'm trying my best to give it to her :) I should also add that I stay in North Carolina I made this post in another state and if he reply to me I can explain why I did so
