QR Code Link to This Post I am a Christian woman and you can call me sister JoJo. It is Christmas and I know there are hurting hearts that cry out for God to help them. God has sent me to do that ministry. I offer you safety without a return favor if any kind. I can feed you and clothe you and give you a safe place to sleep in my home. I am not a fool and this posting isn't so someone can try to take advanantagr of me. I am willing to meet only in a public place to figure out if we feel comfortable with ground rules for my offer of free help. I will filter out scammers so dont bother to contact me if it's your deal. No one will be allowed to accompany you such as a "boyfriend." I won't be robbed. I am street savvy. That said, If you fit the bill of someone who has had predictors using and abusing you take the chance and call me. I will meet you in public and you will see this is a genuine outreach. I do attend church on Sundays and your butt will go with me. I tried to adopt but it fell through. I dont need a child I want just to help one. There are so many wounded children and there are also so many crappy predators out there that hurt children. I am a counter to them. Anyway enough of that. You're reading this you have possibly found the answer to the cry for help. Be awesome and live good and clean and I may even put you through college and help you start a career. One day you can pay it forward the same way. Jesus said do unto the least of least and you have done it for me. I am not in a cult or a Scientologist. I am a registered nurse. That's the offer. Let's see what.
