QR Code Link to This Post I have tried family and friends, but have had no luck finding a loving home for my 8yr old male cat Leo. My wife and i have had him for a long time and now he is not integrating with our new puppy unfortunately. He is a lovable energetic 8yr old with claws and is fixed. He does tend to be an alpha around other cats/dogs. He has been indoors his whole life too, so we dont think he will adjust to being an outdoor cat. We would like to see him go to a loving safe home, so be aware we will want to meet and ask questions. We have a car carrier for him and a litter box, we use the breeze box, which are pellets and not litter which cuts down on the smell and mess. Please respond back if!
