QR Code Link to This Post I have a 2014 female Killer Bee ball python that's ready to breed. She was breed back in 2016 and had a clutch of 6, 5 of which hatched. She is currently around 1300gr, and has been eating every week for the last month. I won't be able to breed her this season so I would like to rehome her to someone who will. She has a slight wobble where she turns her head upside down, but has no issues feeding. I am rehoming her for $300 as she is proven. I'm interested in trades for Het clown females, pastel clown males, or pied females. Let me know what you have. I live in Lake Worth. Low ball offers will be!
