The OLD LAWS were a three piece band based out of the Raleigh area. Over two years after I first joined the band, and a year and a half since I quit, I discuss my history in the OLD LAWS and the knowledge I retained about the band and the people I played with. I decided to do this to commemorate the completion of the album I began recording with the band over two years ago. The album will be posted in early January. There will be other videos related to the band posted every other Friday until the release of the full album. Please subscribe to my YouTube page, and enjoy the!
