QR Code Link to This Post I recently purchased a vehicle and need a repair done on the front passenger side quart panel (see pic). I need an EXPERIENCED body man to cut and weld a new 1/2 section of quarter panel on it. Jalopy Jungle has one I will buy. I need it done as soon as possible and the job completed in a day or two max. From what I've been told from a couple professionals it should only take a day to do it but I am flexible and just want a good job done. A lot of the existing qp has already been separated at the seams to make it easier on you. If you can paint it great but I have a painter that can do it if not. Taking estimates now and looking to hire someone to start on it asap. Please call or text only! Thank.
