QR Code Link to This Post Honey is a 4.5 year old, 8.5lb female Pomeranian mix. She is spayed and up to date on her vaccines. She has been in really good health the past two years and I can provide all her vet records. We've had a basic manners class and she does well with treat reinforcement. Honey needs some basic leash skills, but is a quick learner and with a little bit more training, she will catch on right away! She is able to interact well with other dogs off leash and has had a monthly visit to doggie daycare for socialization. She's potty and crate trained.

I adopted Honey from the Human Society about two a half years ago. Honey's best quality is how much she loves people. I have recently received a health diagnosis that doesn't allow me to give Honey the attention she deserves. She has gone to work with me every day for two years and everyone at the office loves her. She greets clients as they come through door and always brings a smile to everyone's face. She seems to like children but is cautious around them. I've watched her closely with kids and she does not display aggressive behavior but for her sake, I think Honey would be most comfortable with children 5 years or older.

I would love for Honey to go to someone who can spend time with her. If your interested email me and I will send you an application to complete for my review before we set up a visit. There will be a rehoming fee of .
