shower and roll into bed. Oops, sorry ... oh? you gotta leave really early, no time for my troublesome things like any little favor on the property before departure. Can't afford 10 minutes for garbage, for shovelling, for whatever goofy thing I might bother you with. Here, I made you sammich for the road.

- Send you a bit more cash (not a money order because your strange hidden self flies under the radar with no ID in society, so cash is much better, thank you, ma'am). Yes, send you some cash but don't ask your address because you need to remain anonymous. (You've got your reasons.) Could I just send it to the Boise post office "general delivery"? That works.

- And could I pick out 2 boy presents and 1 girl present, what are the sizes please? Yes, thank you. I've written down the sizes. But besides some needed clothes, the one kid could use a pair of shoes and really, they're kids, so clothes are basically boring and sad. The girl likes Wonder Woman figurines, both boys like Star Wars. Lots of options there. Okay. Great suggestion. Thank you.

Okay. I'll get right on these things. Sorry to make you wait.
